A report on the third meeting of Elixir on the theme 'Teachers as Humanity Propagators'

In the Silver Jubilee year of PKM College of Education, Madampam the members of Elixir, The Learning Community for English Teachers conducted its third meeting on 23rd of October 2019 on the theme 'Teachers as Humanity Propagators' in the English class cum method lab at 10:15 am. The above mentioned theme was already chosen as the theme of the month by the college. This was to make the student teachers aware of the necessity of propagating the virtue of humanity among the students who would turn out to be the future citizens of the nation. The publication named 'Cwtch' was also released during this occasion. The meeting was initiated with a silent prayer. The Welcome speech was delivered by Ms. Mridula BP. The Presidential Address was addressed by the co-ordinator of the third meeting of Elixir, Ms. Siona Jacob. She spoke about the importance of giving stress to loyalty, dedication and humanity in the teaching profession. The meeting included the paper presentations by two resource persons, Ms. Jofia Jose and Ms. Sruthi Ramesh. The first presentation by Ms. Jofia Jose included an account of lives of 5 renowned personalities including Mother Theresa from India, who gave prior importance to humanity in their lives. The second presentation by Ms. Sruthi Ramesh included a detailed expression of Gandhian Humanism. Both the papers proved to enrich humanitarian outlook in the student teachers. The Editor's Note was given by Mr. John's Biju, the sub-editor of the publication. 'Cwtch' is a collection of humanitarian analysis of a variety of works by different authors. The publication was released by Dr. Rekha KR, Assistant Professor in English at PKM College of Education, Madampam. The felicitation was given by Mr. Rahul K. Two papers were presented after the felicitation by Ms. Sruthi Ramesh and Ms. Jofia Jose on their respective topics. The meeting winded up with the vote of thanks which was proposed by Mr. Jomal Jose.
