REFLECTION NOTE

A teacher is a person who helps students acquire knowledge, competence, or virtue through the practice of teaching. A teacher's responsibility is not only to teach the curriculum, but also to teach them moral values, what is right and wrong, and to give them the courage to do things that are good for society.

As a student teacher, it is necessary to know the basics of school, its environment, infrastructure, administrative functions, etc. The acclimatization programme really helped me to understand the school in a proper way. Apart from teaching the respective subject, it is necessary to know the basics of a school. Observing the school and faculty gave me an idea of how a teacher should be. One week gave me the opportunity to closely observe the teachers, their relations with students, and the way they dealt with the students.

Observing the students and interacting with them helps me understand their behavioural characteristics. They are more influenced by their peer group and aggressive in nature. They are disturbed in the class and more interested in doing extra-curricular activities.

It was really a new and good experience for me to watch the functioning of a school more closely, and it gave me an idea about the basic things about school.
