Ocean and water bodies. India is endowed with extraordinarily diverse and distinctive traditional waterbodies found in different parts of the country, commonly known as ponds, tanks, lakes, vayalgam, ahars, bawdis, talabs and others. They play an important role in maintaining and restoring the ecological balance. They act as sources of drinking water, recharge groundwater, control floods, support biodiversity, and provide livelihood opportunities to a large number of people. Currently, a major water crisis is being faced by India, where 100 million people are on the frontlines of a nationwide water crisis and many major cities facing an acute water shortage. Water transport in India has played a significant role in the country's economy and is indispensable to foreign trade. India is endowed with an extensive network of waterways in the form of rivers, canals, backwaters, creeks and a long coastline accessible through the seas and oceans.

The quiz competition was led by Dr. Father Sinoj Joseph, Assistant Professor in Physical Education, the coordinator of AsadiKaAmritMahotsav, and the student representatives. And the program was inaugurated by Dr. Veena Appukuttan, Assistant Professor in Social Science, PKM College of Education. It was really innovative and helpful for the student teachers. They get more information about the rivers, ocean and other water bodies of India. It also creates a curiosity in the minds of the student teachers. They get a general awareness as well as knowledge on these things. It also evokes proud feelings among the student teachers because of our diverse waterbodies exist in our country. The quiz competition was conducted in two sets of questions. And the question papers were distributed to them by shuffling the A and B set questions. This strategy is helpful because it avoids the copying of others. The quiz was scheduled for twenty minutes and all of them attempted within the time limit. The coordinators gave the instructions that the phone should be kept aside while attempting the questions.

Everyone actively participated and attempted almost all questions. Out of twenty-five questions three of them won the prize. In the A set question Sheethal C, student teacher from first year Natural Science option and Indu Kumari U K, student teacher from second year Natural Science optional scored sixteen correct answers and they both shared the first position. And in the B set questions Akhila V, student teacher from first year Mathematics option scored seventeen and took the first position. And the medal was given to the winners as an appreciation. These types of programmes are really needed of this hour because according to the opinion of participants these programmes are really helpful.

Water bodies play a very important role in our life. General awareness to these sources are very significant. Knowing about the oceans, rivers and major water bodies widens their general knowledge. General knowledge forms a very important part of our education. It helps to know a broad range of facts and information about this topic. So, it widens our knowledge base. It helps the student teachers to grow on a personal level and academically. Among so many other topics that we encounter in our daily life, awareness to major waterbodies play an important role. Learning about these type of topic will also help to improve their geography and regional matters. More programmes like this are needed and invited from the part of student teachers.

- Scene 1

Aeonian – inno – pedago – lit – expo – scene -1 is an event conducted by Department of Language Education- English, P K M college of education, Madampam, on 18th October 2022 at Multipurpose Hall. It is a part of a project emphasized on our pedagogical outputs for the month of September, in connection with international Translation Day. In the function organized , we have released two of them – Burgeon ,a compilation of translation attempts and Metafrazi an audio book of the same. Beloved Principal Dr Jessy N C and Vice principal Dr Prashanth Mathew were the chief guests . Dr Rekha K R ,head of Department of English Education made an analysis of the work . Ms Devika K K welcomed the gathering and Ms Arsha V marked the official note of gratitude. The event was compered by Ms Anagha V J.

Burgeon – a collection of translations was released by Dr Jessy N C – principal , by handing it over to Dr Prashanth Mathew- the vice principal . Ms Christy Maria Joy, associate editor, introduced the compilation to the audience .Burgeon includes translations of various works and genres from different languages. Some of the student teachers have done the translations of their own work too. Dr.Rekha K R - chief editor has translated two malayalam poems of Sachi – malayalam film director, condensed with emotions and realities of life into English. Ms Arsha V took some poems from O N V Kurupp's Anthology “Aathmageethangal” and William Blake’s poem Eternity and translated into both the languages .Ms Anagha V J and Ms Devika K K did the translation of their own work ; a short story and an essay into English respectively. The story is rooted in a depressed individual 's loneliness and emotional imbalances. The essay covered various aspects of covid and its effect in contemporary society. Mr Jyotis Cyriac and Ms Shahana Farveen translated the works of Vikram Seth and Katherine Tynan .” Any woman “ strongly portrays the role of female in a well structured society. Jyothis' translated work could touch the heart of many as it is a reflection of modern man who lives in the absurdities of the world. Ms Christy Maria Joy translated a poem “Nee” by her own friend, Gopika , which voices the speaker’s desire to dissolve in her lover . Sr.Josna Jose has done the translation of famous quotes from Bible as well as the words of Mahatma Gandhi, Buddha etc.

Metafrazi – the audio book – was launched by Dr Prashanth Mathew. Mr Jyothis Cyriac disclosed the details of the audiobook to the crowd. It comprised the same content , where the teacher students could experience their debut in recording as well as the scope of presenting their creation in a brand new way.

The project as a whole helped us to improve our technological skills .The uncompromising effort of the technocrats -Ms Devika K K and Jyothis Cyriac is highly commentable in this regard. As a beginning , we have faced several challenges and unanswered questions in between, yet, it built a rapport among the group and made us to handle multiple roles simultaneously. The organizational part also turned out in success at the same time a critical discussion was conducted and found out the lapse to be improved in our next session.

Kerala Literature Fest

Kerala Literature Fest is memorabilia that celebrates creativity in all forms. It's an event that draws many writers, artists, scholars, poets, and publishers from all over India and abroad each year.

It was Day 3 of the KLF, and the debates and invited talks were organized in 6 different stages namely Thoolika, Mango, Ezhuthola, Aksharam, Vakku, and Kadha. We all peered over the program schedule and the important talks and their timings were noted.

There was not even an hour to waste as the schedule was quite tight with sessions one after the other, some even happening simultaneously, and all of them were equally exciting and thriving. Interim, some books were also purchased from the book fair by DC Books.

We also got an opportunity to meet various writers such as K. R. Meera, Benyamin, Veerankutty, Father Bobby Jose Kattikadu, and Sheetal Shyam. It was so delightful, and we were blessed to take snaps with these great personalities. Meanwhile, we got an opportunity to see the program hosted by Radio Mango, and it was very enjoyable.

We were very fortunate to witness this literary gala. For us, the entire trip was indelible as it was the first time visiting an event with such notable names in the literary field.

Sessions

At first, we attended the session "A Craft of Writing" by Emily Perkins in conversation with Priya K Nair, in which Emily Perkins discussed the importance of writing and how it can be published in the current climate. All of us scattered in different directions, trying to attend sessions with the authors and eminent personalities that captured our interests.

"Varamozhi"- Quiz Competition

Date:07-11-2022:

On November 7, 2022, in the afternoon at General Hall, a debate competition called "Vaamozhi" was held at the P.K.M. College of Education, Madampam. Malayalam Department Assistant Professor Minimol George (Sister Caroline FCC) made the welcome speech and presided over the competition. "Should primary education be in the mother tongue?" was the thriving topic for the debate. Physical Science Asst. Professor Dr. Prasanth Mathew performed the role of moderator in a very delightful manner. From each department, two student-teachers got the opportunity to participate in this debate competition. In this era when the Malayalam language is dying, it is a very relevant topic for discussion to emphasize the importance of the mother tongue. The points presented by each participant were accepted by the spectators with cheers and claps. Arguments were raised and debated. The competition was so interesting because it allowed student teachers to share their perspectives by stating both positive and negative impacts and jotting down the glimpses and benefits of elementary educational language. The debate became unique as the spectators were also given a chance to share their perspective regarding this theme. The results were beside the audience poll, which was taken before and after the debate. The team that argued for the motion was declared the winner. Anusha, a student-teacher from the department of physical science, and Linet Tressa from the department of natural science were adjudged the best speakers.

After the debate competition, a quiz programme named "Varamozhi" was also conducted for student-teachers by the department of Language Education—Malayalam. The questions were set on the basis of language- Malayalam and its significance. From each department, two teams consisting of two participants were given the opportunity to participate. The competition was conducted with great enthusiasm and spirit.

Christy Mariya Joy and Anagha VJ, student teachers in the English Department, got the first position. Physical Science student teachers Anmaria Raju and Christy Philip won the second position, and Natural Science student teachers Aishwarya PV and Anju M J secured the third position. In these programmes led by the students of the Malayalam department, a direct view of the contemporary approach towards mother tongues was revealed. Simultaneously, the discussion helped to instil the idea that the language should be loved and protected. The Department of Language Education—Malayalam was highly recognised for its dedication and love of language.
